

Privacy Rights.

A University student directory of names and addresses is published soon after the beginning of each semester. Names and local telephone numbers of all students are available on the Butler Internet homepage. If you wish to prevent the release of such directory information, you can do so by completing a form, which is available in the Office of Registration and Records, within 10 days of the first class day. The full text on the privacy rights of students is contained in the student handbook, which is available in the Student Affairs Office. (A separate MBA student directory will also be available.)
