

Program Review Timeline at a Glance

YEAR PRIOR TO APR	TIMEFRAME
Faculty director for assessment and accreditation and dean review upcoming APRs	One year prior to site visit.
Associate dean, a representative from the Office of Institutional Research and Assessment, and faculty director for assessment and accreditation meet with department chair or program director for APR orientation	One year prior to site visit.
Department chair or program director forms self-study committee	One year prior to site visit.
YEAR OF APR
External reviewers proposed, decided by college dean	Semester prior to site visit
Develop timeline and site-visit schedule	Semester prior to site visit
Complete self-study report draft; submit rough draft to dean, faculty director for assessment and accreditation	Three months prior to site visit
Finalize self-study report; send to internal offices and reviewer	Three weeks prior to site visit
Site visit (Two days)	Site visit
Receive external reviewer report	Within one month following site visit
Department/college processes reimbursements and honorarium for external reviewer	Within one month following receipt of reviewer report
YEAR AFTER APR
Draft action plan for review by dean and faculty director for assessment and accreditation	Six weeks following receipt of reviewer report
Schedule action plan meeting with provost, faculty director for assessment and accreditation.	Semester following receipt of reviewer report
Finalize action plan; provost approval and filing	Semester following receipt of reviewer report
THREE YEARS AFTER ACTION PLAN
Mid-term progress report submitted to college dean, faculty director for assessment and accreditation, and the Office of Institutional Research and Assessment	End of 3 rd year following review year.