MULTILINGUAL MAJOR

This program is an exciting new option in which you’ll pursue study in at least three different languages—achieving a major in at least one, plus six additional courses across two other languages, at any level—including, in your studies, critical inquiries into the countries and cultures in which the languages are spoken.

MINIMUM

51 CREDITS

OVERVIEW

1. Completion of the equivalent of an individual Modern Languages major:
   • Chinese (33 credits, beginning Spring 2018)
   • French (33 credits)
   • German (33 credits)
   • Spanish (33 credits)

2. Plus completion of a minimum six, eligible courses—of any level—from across two additional languages.
   • Eligible courses are marked with the ✨ icon in the course listings below.
   • FL 390—no matter if repeated in department language areas—can be only counted once.
