IT’S YOUR CHOICE
Your Options for Reporting Sexual Misconduct

Sexual misconduct includes sex- and gender-based discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual assault, sexual exploitation, dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking.

If you or someone you know becomes a victim of sexual misconduct, there are several options should reporting be the right path for you.

Report To:
LAW ENFORCEMENT

Make a Report
Report the crime to a police investigator with BUPD by calling 317-940-9396 or 911. You can make an Anonymous report online — Silent Watch on BUPD web page.

Initiate an Investigation
If the victim wants, generating a police report can result in a police investigation and may result in criminal charges being filed. Referral to the Marion County Prosecutor’s Office. The victim can choose to only make a police report, ask an investigation to stop at any time, or not pursue criminal prosecutions.

Report To:
BUTLER UNIVERSITY

No University Action
You can request that the University take no action on the report. This request generally will be honored, as long as it does not conflict with the University’s obligation to provide a safe, non-discriminatory environment for all.

Informal Resolution
You can request that the report be resolved informally, which could include mediation, among other options. No disciplinary action would be taken toward the respondent (the person alleged to have engaged in the misconduct) in response to this report.

You are encouraged, but not required, to make a report. The decision is entirely your own.

Confidential Resources
- Counselors @ Counseling and Consultation Services
- Health Services staff
- Will not share information with the University.
- Can assist with reporting if student wishes.

Responsible Employees
- All other University employees, including student employees, have an obligation to report to the Title IX Coordinator when made aware of an incident of sexual misconduct.
- Submitting a report to the University does not mean that an investigation will take place automatically. You will be offered the opportunity to meet with the Title IX Coordinator and learn about your options for resolving the report.

YOU ARE NOT REQUIRED TO REPORT. YOU ARE NOT REQUIRED TO MAKE A DECISION ABOUT HOW TO REPORT OR RESOLVE A REPORT RIGHT AWAY. YOU CAN TAKE THE TIME YOU NEED TO DECIDE WHICH OPTION, IF ANY, IS BEST FOR YOU!

You can request that the report be resolved formally through the Administrative Investigation Process. The investigation process is aimed at gathering information and determining whether that information indicates that it is more likely than not that University policy was violated. If the respondent is found responsible for violating University policy, sanctions impacting their student or employee status will be imposed.

Options for Disclosing Sexual Misconduct

A person who has experienced sexual misconduct has the option of sharing that information with University employees.

Confidential Employees

Counselors at Counseling and Consultation Services
Health Services staff
Ordained clergy providing pastoral counseling at the Center for Faith and Vocation

Sexual Assault Response and Prevention Specialist (SARPS)

Generally will not share information with the University. If certain crimes are reported, the SARPS will need to report only the type of crime, date/time, and location to the University. Can assist individuals with reporting to the University and/or law enforcement, if the individual wishes.

Responsible Employees: most University employees, including student employees (e.g. RA's)

Have an obligation to report to the Title IX Coordinator when made aware of an incident of sexual misconduct. This is because the University wants to (1) ensure the safety of the individual and the campus community and (2) provide the individual with information regarding their rights, options, and resources.

The Title IX Coordinator (TIXC) will reach out to the person reported to have experienced sexual misconduct and offer the option to meet. The person will not be required to meet with the TIXC, nor will they be required to share more information than they wish.

If the person chooses to meet with the TIXC, they will be provided information about their rights, options, and resources, including options for resolving the report with the University (if the report falls under the jurisdiction of the Sexual Misconduct Policy).

The person may request No University Action. This request will generally be honored, provided it does not conflict with the University's obligation to provide a safe, non-discriminatory environment for all.

The person may request informal resolution, which could include mediation, among other options. This request will generally be honored, provided it does not conflict with the University's obligation to provide a safe, non-discriminatory environment for all.

The person may request formal resolution through the Administrative Investigation Process. The University may also decide that a formal investigation process is necessary to maintain a safe, non-discriminatory environment. No matter how the Administrative Investigation Process is initiated, the person may participate as much or as little as they wish.
